Hi all,

My previous email bounced back to me because the files were too big. I am resending this with a compressed version of the photo log, please let me know if you have any problem with the image quality.

Hi Jim,

Attached is a copy of the inspection report that I completed following our site visit on June 4.

The report notes the equipment that was offline or out of service during the inspection. Since the inspection, EPA and the state have received a number of calls from treatment plant personnel regarding the failure of equipment at the plant (sensors, valves, switches, etc) that have caused overflows, spills and other problems at the plant. In response to your query, I would certainly expect the town to undertake an aggressive program to have equipment in a condition that operates reliably and have backup capacity available, in case of emergency.

EPA is also likely to have further communications with you regarding the Town's Capacity Management Operations and Maintenance (CMOM) program as well as its Infiltration and Inflow program, in light of the high flows that in combination with other events at the plant have resulted in the catastrophic flooding at the plant.

Dave

Good afternoon Dave and David,

I was wondering the status of any reports that were made or filed following your visit to the Hull facility on June 4th and if we could get a copy of anything filed.

We are in the midst of setting up our operating budget for the next year as well as our Capital Plan and would like to include any recommendations etc that either of you may have.

Please let me know.

Thank you very much.
